Finvasia APIs have been in the field for some time now and are matured in terms of performance and stability. I also have used the APIs in my app (https://github.com/tarakbluru/TeZ) with success.   However, I have noticed web socket related issues.

1. During handshake with the websocket server, there is a serious delay which occurs intermittently.
2. Sometimes NORENRESTAPI error callback happens with either a dictionary or a exception object

Based on some trials and experiments, I had to make some changes at both API level as well as my app level. These changes are available at https://github.com/tarakbluru/ShoonyaApi-py_With_My_Fixes/tree/master/dist
And https://github.com/tarakbluru/TeZ/blob/pfmu_dev_branch/app_mods/fv_api_extender.py respectively.

Please note.

1. To get these changes included in the official NORENAPI, I submitted these changes as file attachments to apisupport@finvasia.in on Apr 17.2024. They are yet to respond as of this writing.
2. In the meantime, I have released my changes over github for REVIEW by the wider Finvasia user/Developer community.

Please note: Use these changes at your own discretion and are provided "As Is' ' with no support and no claims.
